Date:	14.01.2026
Time:	NA
Objective (1-3 lines/ points):	<ul style="list-style-type: none">o To assess the level of awareness and understanding of civic sense among people in the local community.o To develop students' research and analytical skills through surveys and data interpretation.o To encourage active civic responsibility by identifying gaps in public awareness and behavior.
Beneficiary Group	Undergraduate students
Resource Persons	-
Activity Conducted at (venue/ online/offline)	SVKM's Pravin Gandhi College of Law
Organizers – Faculty- in charge Faculty Members	Prajnee Sahoo Aaditya Jadhav
Student Coordinators	Bhoomi Nagarkar Stutee Doshi

Participants	DLLE registered Students
Number of Students Participated/ Total number of participants	21
Description	Students were divided into groups and assigned two topics related to civic sense. Each group conducted surveys within their locality to assess the level of public awareness and behavior regarding these issues. The activity involved interacting with residents, collecting responses, and analyzing the data to identify trends and gaps in civic responsibility. This hands-on approach helped students gain practical research experience while also understanding real-world civic challenges in their community.
Conclusion/ Outcome	The case study highlighted that while people have basic awareness of civic sense, there are noticeable gaps in consistent practice. The activity helped students understand the difference between knowledge and actual behavior in society. It also emphasized the need for greater awareness and responsible action to improve overall civic standards in the community.
