Description	As part of the Civic Sense Project organized by the Department of Lifelong Learning and Extension (DLLE), students participated in a poster and slogan-making activity aimed at spreading awareness about civic responsibilities. The students created impactful posters and meaningful slogans focusing on themes such as cleanliness, discipline, respect for public spaces, and social etiquette. The activity encouraged students to think critically about everyday civic issues and express their ideas creatively. The posters and slogans were later displayed within the college campus, allowing a wider audience to engage with the messages. This helped in creating awareness among students and faculty members and promoted discussions on the importance of civic sense in daily life.
Conclusion/ Outcome	The activity was successful in fostering creativity and spreading awareness about civic sense among students. It encouraged active participation and helped in instilling a sense of responsibility and accountability. The display of posters and slogans effectively conveyed important messages to the college community
