Description	Students from the Department of Lifelong Learning and Extension (DLLE) participated in a street play competition organized within the college campus. The play was based on the theme of civic sense and public responsibility, focusing on everyday behaviors that negatively impact society. The performance depicted common issues such as littering in public places, ignoring traffic rules, damaging public property, and showing a lack of consideration for others in shared spaces. Through relatable scenarios and engaging dialogues, the play highlighted how small acts of negligence can collectively lead to larger societal problems. The students used expressive acting, clear messaging, and realistic situations to connect with the audience and emphasize the importance of individual responsibility in maintaining civic order. The play also showcased how simple changes in behavior can bring about a positive impact on the community. The street play was performed at the Mithibai College campus grounds and successfully attracted attention from students and faculty members, creating an interactive and thought-provoking experience.
Conclusion/ Outcome	The street play effectively raised awareness about civic responsibilities and the importance of disciplined behavior in public spaces. It encouraged the audience to reflect on their daily actions and adopt more responsible habits. The activity also helped students enhance their communication, teamwork, and performance skills while contributing to a meaningful social cause.
